Our Ports of Call

Boston, Massachusetts: The capital of Massachusetts, Boston is one of the most historic cities in North America. Stroll the 2.5-mile Freedom Trail that connects about 16 of Boston's landmarks such as Boston Common, the Old Corner Bookstore, and Paul Revere's House.

Bar Harbor, Maine: Visit the adjacent Acadia National Park, which offers a network of hiking trails leading to some of the region's most breathtaking views of the Atlantic.

Halifax, Nova Scotia: Located on the shores of the world's second-largest natural harbor, the "City of Trees" adds to the pastoral beauty of Canada's maritime region. An extensive network of walking trails extends from the waterfront out to a series of beautiful parks and vibrant gardens, inviting exploration.

Sydney, Nova Scotia: Discover Cabot Trail and explore the raw unspoiled nature of Canada, breathtaking coastal vistas, kayaking, hiking and much more.

Quebec City, Quebec: First settled in 1535 by France, Quebec City is one of North America's oldest, and most beautiful cities. A captivating sense of French influence still echoes at every turn--from the language to the cuisine and the architecture. There is so much rich history and culture to explore on Quebec cruises. Walk the quaint streets passed stone houses, churches, cafés, and abandoned military fortifications that at one time helped to hold invading forces at bay.

Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island: Nestled in the harbor of the same name, Charlottetown exudes both a nautical charm and a Victorian sensibility, with a historic waterfront set against homes that retain much of their original personality.

Portland, Maine: One of the prettiest coastal towns with a rich history and folklore waiting to be explored. Established in 1632 as a fishing and trading settlement by the British, the city still holds its rustic charm near and dear.
